

About Us

What Makes Us Different?

Companies are facing increasing challenges managing the "back-office" (IT, HR, Finance, and Accounting), given increasing job specialization, a more complex regulatory environment, the dizzying pace of technology change, and the increasing portability of the workforce.

Successful companies must focus on what gives them a competitive advantage, market share, and increased profits. Business change often does not keep up with existing staff that may not be in a good position to know what they don't know.

What makes TouchPointe different than other firms?

Consulting Firm Talent With Staffing Firm Efficiency

Staffing firms efficiently fill defined orders, but don't understand your underlying needs. Consulting firms offer business solutions, but are expensive, unwieldy, and not interested in transferring knowledge to your team. TouchPointe combines that efficiency and expertise into an unrivaled model that maximizes your back-office operation.

Premium Service

Everyone talks about service, few can actually deliver. By leveraging the industry's best talent, we uniquely approach our clients' needs from distinctive perspectives and with proven disciplines, making premium service delivery our primary business driver. Just ask our clients.

The TouchPointe Blueprint

We have the best experts in IT, finance, accounting and HR. When you engage TouchPointe, you can review an overall assessment of your current people, processes and technology – the TouchPointe Blueprint .

No On The Job Training

Our managers are proven practitioners in their field of specialty, and have the results to prove it. Why pay another firm to train their staff on your nickel?

The TouchPointe Network Plus Program

We take advantage of emerging trends in professional networking via the internet, blended with traditional staffing firm processes and old-fashioned face-to-face training including interactive and service-oriented programs. As a result, we have access to a far more comprehensive and client-focused virtual bench

Tailored Solutions

A single solution approach of interim staffing, one time project support, or managed solutions by a third party will likely work completely for a company. So why pick a strategic partner that can only do one product, or a service provider that force-fits and recycles the same products and offerings to every customer?

A Full-Solution, Managed Services Approach

Our managed services suite provides ongoing professional management, streamlined budgeting, and a dynamic workforce that easily expands and contracts as your business needs dictate.
